The One And Only Me

It's time to celebrate everything that makes you YOU!

DRAW YOURSELF HERE!

There are so many things that make you who you are – your favorite book and Nick characters, the hobbies you can't wait to do, the cultural traditions you've loved forever, your racial and gender identity, your creativity and style, the ways your mind and body work, and the family and friends who feel like home.

FANTASTIC FACTS ABOUT THE ONE AND ONLY ME...

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

These things, and many more, make you one-of-a-kind, fascinating, and a joy to know. There's no one quite like you, and it's OK (even GREAT) to be different!

But Don't Just Take Our Word For It...

The One And Only Me

Color, write, draw, stick, or glue the things that make you, YOU!
Create a splat-tastic sign that shows off all the special pieces of your identity.

Your parents, step-parents, guardians or foster parents, siblings, cousins, grandparents, aunts & uncles. The people who are there for you and make you feel loved.

FAMILY

They may not be related to you but they sure feel like family. These are the pals who make you feel seen. The ones you confide in, play, and laugh with.

FRIENDS

Your school, out-of-school program, neighborhood, and town. The places and groups you're a part of, where you learn and grow.

COMMUNITIES

PASSIONS & ACTIVITIES

What do you love to do and learn about?

ABILITY

The ways your mind and body work. What are some ways you communicate and move through the world? Do you have a disability? Are you neurodivergent?

RACE, ETHNICITY, AND CULTURE

Racial identity is based on a combination of physical traits, like your skin color, eyes, and hair, your ancestry, as well as your cultural background (things like family traditions, festivities, languages, and religious practices).

GENDER IDENTITY

A personal feeling of who you are - a boy, girl, both or neither. Your gender might also be reflected in the pronouns you use.
